

REVOLUTION HAS BROKEN OUT IN VIENNA

SPIRIT OF REVOLT IN AUSTRIA SPREADS SAYS A WIRELESS PICKED UP TODAY

ALTHOUGH STRIKE HAS BEEN COMPROMISED, UNREST PREVAILS THROUGHOUT DUAL MONARCHY.

SOLDIERS MUTINY AT VIENNA

SOLDIERS REFUSE TO FIRE ON MOBS WHICH ARE PILLAGING SHOPS AND DEFEYING AUTHORITIES.

(International News Service.) London, Jan. 24.—A revolution has broken out in Vienna, according to information received today from Petrograd. The revolutionaries are attempting to seize all governmental power in the dual monarchy and have organized a provisional government, the dispatch added.

Information of the revolt was received by the Bolshevik government at Petrograd from Austrian soldiers on the eastern front. At the same time word was received from Berne that a mutiny had broken out in the Vienna garrison.

Petrograd advices stated that the news of the revolution had been given out there by M. Nelot-sky, under foreign secretary. The information created a profound impression here. If a successful revolution is undertaken in Austria at this time, it would mean the severance of the alliance with Germany and a quick peace.

Unrest has been growing in Austria-Hungary for months. It came to a head within the past few days with a general strike. There were numerous contributing causes, but the chief of them were the following: 1—Famine and distress caused by the long war. 2—Hostility to the government's civility to Germany. 3—Factional strife among the numerous races making up the dual monarchy. 4—The ardent desire for peace. 5—Socialistic influence exerted by the Russian Bolsheviks.

(International News Service.) London, Jan. 24.—Revolutionary disorders are occurring in Vienna, and the spirit of revolt is spreading, according to a wireless message from Petrograd which was picked up here today.

For several days there have been reports of riots in the Austro-Hungary industrial centers and the unrest has been growing.

Although the Austrian government claims that the general strike has been settled by compromise, the regulations governing public meetings and the press have been tightened. All political literature except the pamphlets issued by the so-called patriotic party have been suppressed and mass meetings at Vienna are being broken up at the point of the bayonet. The German militarists are exerting a powerful influence upon the Austrian government.

MUTINY BREAKS OUT IN VIENNA GARRISON.

(International News Service.) Geneva, Jan. 24.—A mutiny has broken out in the Vienna garrison and the soldiers refused to fire on mobs that were destroying property, according to information from the frontier today. It was estimated that numerous food shops were pillaged and that anarchists are openly defying the authorities.

BOLSHEVIKI MUCH ENCOURAGED OVER AUSTRIAN SITUATION.

(International News Service.) Stockholm, Jan. 24.—The Bolshevik government is greatly encouraged over the agitation which has developed in the Austrian empire and predictions were openly made in Petro-

(International News Service.) Washington, Jan. 24.—Fast on the heels of the report that ground glass has been found in candy consigned to the navy, it was admitted by the navy department that the distribution of candy from all ship stores has been suspended. The reason was that "impurities" have been found in certain shipments. A searching investigation is being conducted.

CALVIN MAKES APPEAL TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

J. H. Calvin, chairman of the Benevolent finance committee, today made the following public appeal:

Dear Sir:
At a meeting composed of your fellow citizens who are deeply interested in the Benevolent hospital, they saw fit to appoint me as chairman of a finance committee for the purpose of raising sufficient funds to free this institution of debt. Therefore, I am taking the liberty of urging that you do what you can to help in this worthy cause. You no doubt know that the good women of both Albany and Decatur have labored for years to make it possible that we have some place in which to care for our sick and afflicted. How well they have succeeded we all know, as the beautiful and well arranged little hospital now stands as a monument to their efforts. This hospital does not belong to any individual, but was built and donated to you and to future generations. You should take a personal interest in it, and it is your duty as a citizen of the community to give it all the financial assistance you can afford.

The following gentlemen will take pleasure in receiving your contributions:

Decatur—Foster H. Pointer, Pete Ballas, T. M. Dix, F. R. Beason, D. D. McGehee, W. W. Fussell, J. S. Patterson, Clyde Hendrix, W. E. Roper, M. E. Woodward, Rufus Peerson, W. M. Bailey.

Albany—B. L. Malone, E. C. Payne, F. A. Bloodworth, T. A. Bowles, B. E. Preuit, S. M. Thompson, A. G. Patterson.

South Albany—J. A. Putnam, Joe Wilder, O. L. Mahoney, J. F. Hartung, West Albany—John Patterson, E. M. Odum.

East Albany—E. M. Lee, Jack Jenkins, J. D. McCormack, J. Broadbent.

These men are busy and have their duties to perform same as you. So I beseech you to do your duty. Go now to one of them and give what you can, be it little or much. Knowing that both the community and yourself will be benefited by this act of duty and mercy, and leaving the subject entirely with you and your conscience, I am with best wishes,
Yours very truly,
J. H. CALVIN.

CHAMBERLAIN STANDS PAT ON HIS CHARGES

In Bitter Speech Re-Iterates Assertion That War Department Incompetent

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—Fighting with both fists, Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, foremost preparedness advocate in congress, called "untruthful" by President Wilson, this afternoon hurled back an avalanche of proof to sustain his charge that America's war government is honey-combed with incompetence amid a settling more dramatic and an excitement more intense than any attending any event in the capitol since the declaration of war against Germany.

The senator took the floor on question of personal privilege shortly after noon to answer President Wilson's stinging rebuke Monday night. In calm tones he related the incidents that led up to the president's attack and then made public an exchange of correspondence with the president in which he tried vainly to obtain a conference with the president to suggest a remedy for the incompetency disclosed by the army investigations. Refusing to yield an inch from his charge that the military establishment is hopelessly bound up in red tape, Senator Chamberlain thundered: "I adhere to my statements and I now repeat them."

High spots in his speech were: "I openly charge that the hundreds of thousands of deaths in the training camps are due to inefficiency in the war department. I fear neither God, man nor the devil when it comes to telling the truth. Practically no cantonment in the country has a single trench mortar, machine gun, howitzer or large calibre cannon. America stands today unprepared so far as ordnance is concerned."

"It is not a question between the president and myself—it is the question of America. The secretary of war tells us that we have nine of these (machine) guns adopted. Nine guns to go up against the millions of Germany. Germany knows more about what America is doing today than anyone connected with our department and America would be better off if she came out in the spotlight. I assume full responsibility for the speech I made in New York last Saturday as printed. God grant every young man will write home and tell of conditions as they are—not to stay patriotism, but to stimulate it in the right direction."

Dr. Hoover Will Prescribe War Bread For America

Washington, Jan. 24.—America soon will be eating war bread every day in the week. Food Administrator Hoover this afternoon is engaged in drawing up regulations that will affect a 25 per cent reduction in the amount of wheat flour which will reach the bakers, who, if they are to continue their usual output of bread, will have to make up the deficiency with rye, barley, rice meal or other substance.

The regulations, which will be issued formally, probably before the end of the week, are aimed to make up the amount of wheat the allies will need before the next crop comes in in June.

Harriman Schools In Fuel Districts Forced to Close

Another indication of the seriousness of the fuel situation is the fact that the public schools of Harriman, Tenn., have been forced to close for a period of six weeks. Harriman is in the fuel district of East Tennessee. The six weeks loss time will be made up by extending the term into the summer. Miss Annie Crane, of Albany, a member of the Harriman faculty, arrived home late yesterday to spend her winter vacation and brought the news of the coal shortage in the blue sky region.

British Steamer in Distress; Boats Lost

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—Naval vessels have been speeding to the assistance of the British steamer Key Kern, reported in distress off this coast, all night and this morning, the navy department announced. No reports have been received relative to the ship, which late yesterday sent out wireless calls of distress, saying that her boats were gone.

Young America to be Physically Fit

Washington, Jan. 24.—That the future American shall try to rival the old Greek in the development of physical perfection, the federal children's bureau of labor will call on the entire country to observe April 6 as the first day of "Children's Year"—the beginning of a year in which the United States government will attempt to save at least 100,000 children under five years whose deaths are easily preventable.

Loquacious Negro Calls on Officer; Now Under Arrest

Dock Miles, said to be a deserter from the United States army, at Newport News, Va., dropped in yesterday on Police Officer Ed Howell for a lengthy chat. During the course of the conversation, the officer discovered that the negro had taken French leave of his company and he was placed in jail. A telegram this morning from Newport News instructed the patrolman to deliver his prisoner at the nearest army post, and Mr. Howell will leave tonight for Ft. Oglethorpe with the soldier in tow. He will receive $50 for making the arrest.

Submarine Losses For Week Small

But Six Vessels of Over 1,600 Tons Sunk.

London, Jan. 24.—Again the sinkings of British merchantmen by mine or submarine have been held at a low point. Only six vessels of 1,600 tons or over and two under that tonnage were destroyed in the past week, according to the admiralty report.

The sinkings of British merchantmen for the past week—six large ships and two small ones. In the previous week two fishing vessels also were sunk; in the past week the fishing craft escaped entirely.

The admiralty reports on Jan. 2 and Jan. 9 gave the sinkings as 21 merchantmen, of which 18 were over 1,200 tons in each case.

CONDITIONAL BAN PLACED ON MOVEMENT OF FREIGHT WILL BE LIFTED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

CONSULTED WITH STAFF

NO GENERAL PROHIBITION OF THE MOVEMENT OF FREIGHT IS NOW IN PROSPECT, SAYS RAIL DICTATOR.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—Conditional freight embargoes will be resorted to for short periods from time to time if the railroads are not cleared by the embargoes reluctantly declared by Director General McAdoo yesterday.

McAdoo still is opposed to embargoes, unless absolutely necessary to speed up the movement of coal, food and war materials. He explained today that it was not until after talking with National Director A. H. Smith and C. R. Gray of the director general's staff, yesterday morning that he was convinced that the necessity for such action existed in view of the adverse elements of the last week. He admitted today that it was probable other embargoes might have to be declared by him from time to time, but only for a few days each. However, he stated he did not believe there would be any necessity for a general embargo over a wide territory.

VON HERTLING TO ADDRESS REICHSTAG THIS AFTERNOON REGARDING PEACE

(International News Service.) Amsterdam, Jan. 24.—Count Von Hertling, the German chancellor, is scheduled to address the main committee of the Reichstag this afternoon, replying to the war aims speeches of President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George. Word from Berlin touching upon the tenor of his talk is eagerly awaited here.

With the militarists in control of the German government, it is not expected that the chancellor's address will contain much of a conciliatory spirit, and information from an authoritative source indicates that the government has not yet given up hope of making peace on the basis of the present war map. The wide-spread unrest that has developed in Austria was expected to exert considerable influence on the chancellor's speech.

Leather Trust is Robbing Public is Federal Report

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—Phenomenal increases in the profits of the leather business of Swift & Co. and Armour & Co. are shown by their books for 1915-16, according to the federal trade commission report made to congress today. Stocks of hides are abnormally large, the commission says, while many tanning plants are operating at far from their capacity. The committee in its report, which is preliminary in character, indicates that it considers that present excessive prices for shoes and leather products are unjustified.

ALBANY BOARD OF COMMERCE IS CITY'S BEST ASSET.

The annual meeting of the Albany Board of Commerce is to be held tonight at the headquarters on Second avenue, and should be attended by every business man and every citizen who is aligned on the side of progress and development. The splendid work done by the organization during its one year of existence not only justifies it in asking for continued support, but absolutely demands that the scope of its activities shall be enlarged. During the short term of the Board's existence, more industries have been brought here than would have come voluntarily in a decade; more of the boosting spirit has been engendered than would have filtered in in a generation. In fact, a new era has dawned and a new pace has been set. The credit justly goes to concerted action, and concerted action is impossible without organization.

To review the work of the Board of Commerce in all its detail and all its intricacies would require volumes of space. Some of the major and more tangible achievements can be briefly set out thusly:

The Albany Silk Mill secured and its model plant erected.

The Albany Overall Factory organized and started on the road to prosperity.

The cementing of closer trade relations with neighboring territory and the advertising of the city throughout this section. The sum of $1,200 alone was expended in this propaganda of boosting.

These material things cannot escape the eye of the mercenary and the materialist. The finer results, such as the settlement of old scores and the harmonizing of discordant elements, will be discernible only to the psychologist. The man who is able to understand why Atlanta grew, despite its location and because of its spirit, can appraise at their true value these other achievements which are really of more lasting worth.

Albany business men have but one choice to make. They can allow affairs to drift along and take such few crumbs as the ravens may bring or they can put their shoulder to the wheel and double the city's population before the next census is taken. Those who are far-sighted, those who are alert, those who are willing to meet opportunity half way, will give their support and influence to the Albany Board of Commerce. All of them who can will attend the annual meeting tonight.

The action of Decatur citizens, who yesterday subscribed so liberally to the Benevolent hospital fund, can have but one meaning so far as they are concerned. Those citizens have decided that the hospital is to be a fixture; and that its labor of love shall go on. As the days pass the number of those who wish to give of their money to the suffering and the sick will increase, until the present $2,000 debt on the hospital is paid and then some for running expenses. The appeal of these institutions which aim at the alleviation of bodily pain have no limitations. Some might draw back from supporting institutions which aim at intellectual development and the like, saying that people should provide their own culture. And for one reason and another almost any community enterprise, save its hospital, has its limitations as to appeal, and consequently a limited number of givers. No sufficient reason can obtain which will prevent anybody in these cities from contributing up to his or her limit to this worthy cause. The books and doors of the hospital are open to all. And its board of governors has never turned afflicted persons away when it was at all practicable to treat them. The hospital knows no creed, sect, nationality or other distinction. The hospital knows only suffering humanity.

It's history is a part of the biography of the best and most charitably inclined women who have ever lived in this community, whether living now or whether they have passed away. The hospital has always, as it does today, faithfully reflected the character and spirit of those who have given so richly of their lives to make it a success. Its books and workings are examined from time to time by committees of able business men, and they have, without exception, praised the strict economy practiced and the careful business methods followed.

There are more stockholders in this institution by far than in any other local enterprise—almost as many as there are bricks in the building. These and the many, new people who will take stock, can be depended upon to see to it that the Benevolent hospital shall continue on its mission to be sick and the helpless. Subscribe!

"Pretty Baby" Proves A Laugh Producer

Elmer Coudy, Eccentric Comedian, Shared Honors With Jean Tynes.

Elmer Coudy, an eccentric comedian whose emaciated condition was responsible for the gag he pulled at the expense of Tuesday, Mr. Hoover's "meatless day," and Jean Tynes, a dainty and finished bit of femininity, did much to make "Pretty Baby," the offering at the Masonic theatre last night, decidedly the best popular price-attraction of the season. And this is no disparagement of the remainder of the company, which included Geo. Fwyman, who capably supported the two stars, and Al Garbelle, an unusually accomplished dancer, as well as a hand picked chorus of pronounced curves and dimpling comeliness.

The scenic effects were good, too. Especially inspiring was the patriotic scene in the first act, when Miss Tynes appeared as a Red Cross nurse, accompanied by a red, white and blue chorus that threw back cloaks lined with the stars and stripes. As the audience applauded, a monster American flag, the entire length of the stage, dropped from the flies. The applause then grew deafening.

It was Coudy, confidential and classic, who made the evening's entertainment one continuous round of merriment. From the moment that he stepped on the stage and began drilling his facial muscles until he was impeded into an oriental dance in the orchestra pit by the weird cries of the instruments, he was busy stimulating guffaws and giggles. As a comedian of his particular kind he was unusually clever.

A large audience witnessed the performance.

GUS HILL'S MINSTRELS PLEASE LARGE AUDIENCES HERE.

(Savannah Morning News.)
Lovers of minstrelsy enjoyed a genuine treat at the Savannah theatre yesterday when Gus Hill's Big Minstrels gave two performances, matinee and night.

It is this type of performance which keeps alive the interest in that most popular form of entertainment, minstrelsy. There are minstrel shows with which the public is periodically afflicted that have done a great deal to place minstrelsy in disfavor. Gus Hill has an aggregation of entertainers, however, that is entitled to high praise. For the most part the comedy is new and so is the music.

THOMPSON ENJOINS

The following endorsement of Gus Hill's Minstrels, which came to the Masonic theatre Friday night, was voluntarily given today by H. R. Thompson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.:

"I saw Gus Hill's minstrels in Sumter, S. C., in December. It is the cleverest, cleanest minstrel show I have ever seen. Geo. Wilson is an artist of first note. Just one long laugh."

SOLDIER BOY SAYS IT'S COLD ABROAD

ALVIN HUBBARD WRITES FROM "SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE."

Mrs. J. T. Hubbard, of Albany, has received a letter from her son, Alvin Hubbard, now "Somewhere in France" that was written prior to Christmas. At that time the ground was covered with snow and weather was intensely cold.

The letter follows:

December 18, 1917

Dear Mama and All:

Will write you all a few lines tonight to let you know I am still living. This leaves me just fine and am trying to have a good time. I wrote you two letters in the last town we were in. Did you get them? We've only been here four days and are leaving again soon, but don't know where we are going.

Believe me, we are having some cold weather here now, and there's a big snow on the ground, but we have plenty of warm clothes and it doesn't bother us. Have you had any snow there yet?

I sure would like to hear from you all. I haven't had a letter from you since I left New York, but I think we will get our mail while we are in this place. Have gotten three or four letters since I've been here, but they were the ones that were addressed to Camp Mills, N. Y.

Guess you are planning for a big time Christmas, are you not? Have been thinking about those big fruit cakes you always have at Christmas times, but don't think we will be disappointed, for we're going to have cake, turkey and everything else it takes to make a Christmas dinner.

Give my regards to all and tell all the kids hello, and write me the news.

Your Son,

ALVIN.

County to Ask Bids On March the First

For Improvement of Court House and New Highway to Hartselle.

Within the next few days, Probate Judge L. P. Troup will advertise for bids for the remodeling and repairing of the court house and for the construction of the pike from the Twin Cities to Hartselle. These bids will be opened on March 1, and as soon thereafter as the contracts can be awarded, the work will begin. Owing to the severe weather of the winter, building will not commence until early spring.

Plans for the remodeling of the court house include a new floor for the downstairs corridor, the calclining of interior walls, the repair of the roof and the re-plastering of many rooms. The interior of the court room will also be remodeled. One stairway will lead directly into the bar, which will be moved to the southeastern corner of the room, in order to reduce the noise. Attorneys, the judge and others will enter from this stairway. The other stairway will be placed at the southwest corner of the room, and will be used by witnesses and spectators. The court room will also be changed in its construction, with the view of improving the faulty acoustics.

Clears Coated Tongue

How often lately you wake in the morning with bad taste in the mouth, not rested, and you have hardly enough energy to go to work. You look in the glass and your tongue is all coated. Indigestion—that's the cause of the trouble. Most persons know that, but how few heed the warning.
At Daisy Tenn, there is a man, J. H. Lewis, who had suffered for fifteen years. He had tried almost everything, so naturally he was skeptical when he first tried Vin Hepatica, which had been recommended to him. But he tried it. It did for him just what it has done for thousands of others, made him entirely well. "I eat anything, go to bed and sleep like a child—something I had not done for years." That is his testimony to Vin Hepatica.
We do not make a practice of recommending remedies to our patrons, but the remarkable record of Vin Hepatica, the universal system purifier, makes us endorse it without qualification. Come in. Get a bottle. Try it. That is our advice to you.

Why?

For the sixth successive year the Hudson has led all cars in its price class in actual retail sales at the New York Automobile Show. This leadership was established with the 1914 model six-forty. With the beginning made at the New York Automobile Show of that year, the Hudson Company sprang into the position of being the largest builders of six cylinder cars in the world.

Today the Hudson Super-Six is the world's largest selling fine car.

(International News Service.)

ALL'S QUIET ON THE BRITISH WESTERN FRONT.

London, Jan. 24.--Nothing of importance has occurred on the British front during the past 24 hours.

Spirit of Revolt in Austria Spreads

grad today that "the next Bolshevik regime will be established in the Dual monarchy."

The Russian soldiers have been distributing literature amongst the Austrian troops ever since the armistice went into effect on the eastern front, and the influence of this propaganda is already making itself felt. At the same time the Germans have tried vainly to stop the increasing friendliness between the Russian and Austrian soldiers. A telegram from Petrograd quoted a member of the Bolshevik government as saying that the prospects for a separate peace between Austria and Russia are growing brighter daily.

If for any reason the Albany-Denver Daily reaches you irregularly, please telephone Albany 46 or write this office and the matter will be adjusted at once. The Daily is anxious to give you the best of service.

OFFER TO DEFRAY LEGISLATIVE COST MADE BY AMENDIST

(International News Service.)

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 24.--No response has as yet been made by Gov.

Henderson to the offer of a well known prohibitionist, said to be Brock

Musgrove, to defray the expense of assembling the legislature for the ratification of the national prohibition amendment. The offer was made in order that the vexed issue might be gotten out of politics, so that other matters could be considered at the polls in the elections of this year.

Shoot Privates Who Attempt to Escape

Spartanburg, S. C., Jan. 24.--Private Floyd Dickey, Company A, 108th infantry, was killed; Private Stoville, Company H of the same regiment, was shot in the hip, and Private Beard of Company A, escaped without injury when the three men last night attempted to escape from the regimental guard house at Camp Wadsworth. Universal Training Not War Measure

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 24.--The universal military training bill is a peace time measure. None of its supporters claim that the training of boys of 18, 19 and 20 should begin now. But the law must be written now, in time of war, because when peace returns a wave of pacifism will sweep over the land and its passage will then be impossible. Representative Kahn gave notice today that he soon would move for a hearing before the military affairs committee.
